MAGIC DOTS FOR LITTLE TOTS

TRADE MARK REGISTERED
PATENTED IN U. S. AND CANADA

Consists of a set of cards on which are printed interesting and attractive designs with holes punched throughout the card. (See illustrations on following pages.) With each set of material is furnished an ample supply of disks or dots called MAGIC "DOTS," which are of proper size to fit snugly into the holes in the cards when placed therein by the fingers of the child, yet these "Dots" can be readily removed when desired and used over and over again. They are enameled with eight bright colors and when placed in the cards make very pleasing and attractive pictures.

By changing the position of the "MAGIC DOTS" an endless variety of effects can be produced.

This game of play is properly, this "busy work," provides educational and at the same time a decidedly pleasing occupation for children of all ages, even as young as two years, and is an entertainment in which one or ten children can participate at the same time.

There is no paste or paint to soil the hands or clothing and yet the effect is equally as pleasing as though the colors were applied with a brush and by the hand of an artist; the fact that the child can provide a bear with a blue uniform coat and a red cap, following a gold and silver flag, and in company with a monkey and dog equally as gaily adorned, or that he can give to the typical garments of a clown about all the colors of the rainbow, affords an innocent occupation and pastime equalled by few, if any, of the more expensive amusements on the market to-day.

Sets No. 3 and 4 are designed more particularly for use in kindergartens and lower grades of school, though they are, of course, in common with sets 1 and 2, of equal pleasure and interest to the child at home.
