OVER THE GARDEN WALL

Copyright, 1911, by Milton Bradley Co.

For Any Number of Players

DIRECTIONS

Place the shooter on the picture of the boy, in the center; place the ball in the hole at the top of the shooter, and snap the shooter, with thumb and forefinger, against the fence, holding the finger close to the shooter so as not to hurt the finger.

When the shooter strikes the fence the ball will jump over into the barnyard. If the ball roles into a hole, the player scores as many points as are indicated by the number beneath the hole unless it is the hole marked "Lose 50." In this case the player must deduct this amount from his score.

The play proceeds by turn, each player having a shot before the first player can shoot again.

A game is for 300 points or more, as may be agreed upon by the players before the game. The player who first scores the required number of points wins the game.

INSTRUCCIONES:

Pongase el disparador en la figura del nino, en el centro; coloquese la bolita en el hoyo arriba del disparador, y disparesse con los dedos pulgar e indice contra el muro, teniendo el dedo junto al disparador para que no sufra dano.

Todos los jugadores dispararan una vez por turno, hasta volver al primero.
