

4704 The New
"Three Ring Circus " Game
on the Great Big Game Board

A unique method of play which adds zest and interest is to play, at one time, all three games on one side of the board. Just as the three-ring circus fascinates by its rapidly changing acts and variety of colorful pictures, so the fun of one game is greatly increased by the contrasting situations and variety of moves necessary to watch when three games are played as one. Here's the way the "Three ring" method is played:

Each player takes three men of a color, playing one on each section of the board. The dice are rolled, or the spinner twirled, same as when playing a single game, but a player may apply the number thrown or spun to a move in any one of the three games in play. The player first completing the three games is a Three ring Winner.

Three- Ring "Spin" and "Shake" Game

This "Controlled play" lends still further variety features to this game board of diversified method and contrasting games.

Twirl the spinner. If the pointer stops on Nos. 1 or 2, you play on the left hand section of the board. If the spinner stops on 3 or 4, play the game in the center section: and if 5 or 6 play on the third, or right-hand, section..... After the spinner has determined on which section of the board your next move must be made, shake the dice and move your man in that section, in accordance with the rules for that individual game..... The winner is the player first completing the three games.
