PASTIME CONTESTS

PARKER BROTHERS (Inc.)
Salem, Mass., Flatiron Bldg., New York and Ivy Lane, London, Eng.

An Absorbingly Fascinating Game for any Number of Players.
Admirably Suited also for Progressive Parties.

For Pastime Contests use as many Pastime Puzzles as there are players.

See that the Pastime Puzzles used in the contest bear the same Printed Number, thus, No. 100, No. 150, as this will indicate that the puzzles in these boxes are cut approximately into an equal number of pieces.

Players draw boxes by lot and each starts immediately to put together his own puzzle, the Player first succeeding winning.

FOR PROGRESSIVE PARTIES

For Progressive Parties "Pastime Contests" have become the vogue. For Progressive Parties use as many Pastime Puzzles (preferably small size puzzles) as there are players. At a given signal players at the various tables all start to put their puzzles together, each player taking one box and contesting with three other players at the same table, the two players first succeeding in putting their puzzles together moving up to the next higher table. Another method is this: As soon as the players at the head table have completed their puzzles, a bell is struck and all players stop, the two most successful players at each table moving up to the next one.

Where puzzles are not completed the number of pieces actually put together in one mass towards the formation of the picture shows which competitor is ahead.

The PASTIME PICTURE PUZZLES are made only by Parker Brothers (Inc.) Salem, Mass., New York, and London. makers of Diabolo, Pit, Ping Pong, Rook Cards and other games.
