

Phrases and Clues from DOWN YOU GO
Television Program

PHRASES	CLUES
PREPARE FOR THE WORST	When a man expects wieners but wants steak
SCREEN TEST	What every stage-struck girl and every mosquito hopes to pass
TAKE A LETTER PLEASE	First command of a dictator
MRS. ASTOR'S PLUSH HORSE	A frilly filly
SELF ESTEEM	An anesthetic which saves us more pain than anything else in life
FASTEN SEAT BELTS, NO SMOKING	Down you go
CUTTING A MAN DEAD	Autopsy
POPPING THE QUESTION	This puts the pop in population
RULE THE ROOST	A cocky ambition
MOTHER'S DAY	This begins and ends in hard labor
CHILD PRODIGY	Small wonder
IT SIMPLY ISN'T DONE	Rare steak
PAT PENDING	One of the best known Irishmen in the world
PENALTY FOR HOLDING	Football definition for marriage
A PAIR OF SCISSORS	This will cut your grocery bill in half

INSTRUCTIONS

Including

1 0 0

PHRASES AND CLUES
from the
TELEVISION PROGRAM

Selection + Register
(AcCA the original)

DOWN YOU GO

Any number may play DOWN YOU GO, with one player acting as Moderator, the others being members of the panel or contestants. Optional with the group, one player may be Moderator for the duration of play; or the winner of each game may be the Moderator for the succeeding game.

The Moderator takes a position facing the players, six feet or more in front of them, making sure no member of the panel can see behind the board after it is set up.

The cut-out board is set up by placing it in the slotted blocks which act as a stand, with the colored side facing the players.

The Guide Sheet and Letter Box are placed behind the board, and the letters, when separated, can be kept conveniently alphabetically arranged in the Letter-Box.

The Moderator then picks a phrase from the suggested list or of his own invention, and places each letter of the phrase on the Guide Sheet, skipping a block between words. After completing the phrase on the Guide Sheet, the Moderator then places a blank marker on the holder above the window on the board bearing the same number as the blank space on the Guide Sheet.

If a word cannot be completed on a line, or cannot be properly hyphenated to complete a line, then as many blanks as may be needed to fill out the line are placed in the windows, and the Moderator continues on the next line.

After the phrase is completed the Moderator places two blanks at the end of the phrase, and in addition may indicate the end by saying "This shows the end of the phrase."

When the layout on the Guide Sheet has been completed, the Moderator then gives the clue for the phrase. As can be noted from the samples, the clue is not a direct hint or lead to the phrase. In fact, it is as misleading as the Moderator can make it without being untruthful. It is up to the panel members to try to obtain direct information when they ask their free questions.

After the clue has been given each member of the panel may ask one question which may be answered "Yes" or "No" by the Moderator. NOTE: It is suggested that if there are more than five players in the panel, that only five selected by the Moderator be allowed to ask questions — one to each.

A player may at any time try to guess the complete phrase. However, if he fails to give the complete phrase correctly, word for word, he goes down, and is out of that game. He may not help the remaining players with any suggestions or hints; but must remain silently on the sidelines until the next game begins.

After the questions have been asked, each player in turn as assigned by the Moderator, guesses a letter by saying "Are there any (mentioning the letter)?" If there are any of the letter selected by the player, the Moderator says "There are (stating the quantity of the letter chosen that appear in the phrase)," taking each one from the Guide Sheet, and placing it in the correspondingly numbered window on the board. If there is none of the letter chosen, the Moderator says, "Down You Go," and the player is out for the balance of that game as described above.

The players continue guessing in turn (except when a player thinks he knows the phrase) until someone guesses the phrase, or until all the players are down; at which time the Moderator tells them the phrase, and a new game is started.

In any game, when half the panel is down, the remaining members each get one more free question, after which they continue again guessing the letters or phrase as above.

Punctuation marks, except for hyphens, are completely ignored.

Phrases and Clues from DOWN YOU GO
Television Program

PHRASES	CLUES
SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE	The missus
THE NIGHT HAS A THOUSAND EYES	That's why we have blinds
DOUBLE EXPOSURE	This is often the consequence of two-timing
THIRD FINGER LEFT HAND	This has the ring of authority about it
ROAD HOG	A pig that usually ends in the poke
GRAVY TRAIN	A favorite form of transportation among politicians
QUACK DOCTOR	A good thing to duck
DANGEROUS CURVES	An outstanding characteristic of round numbers
PAINTING THE TOWN RED	A common form of self-expression in art
RAINING CATS AND DOGS	Bad weather for rats
PUCKER UP	This is an effect produced by love and pickles
SOFT SHOULDERS	This is something a fast young man should stay off
SEE HOW THEY RUN	It refers to stockings, rodents, and children's noses
UPSIDE DOWN CAKE	A sweet reversal
THE PYRAMIDS	Where every day is mummy's day
CLEANSING TISSUES	This is something which receives some terrific blows each winter
THE WORM WILL TURN	A new twist to an old story concerning a spineless character
SLOE GIN AND FAST WOMEN	This doesn't make for a good race
THE POSTMAN ALWAYS RINGS TWICE	A mail habit reassuring to women at home
YOU'RE ONLY YOUNG ONCE	One of life's deepest consolations
TIGHT SQUEEZE	A drunken embrace or a penurious lover's favorite diversion
BILL AND COO	This is strictly for the birds

Phrases and Clues from DOWN YOU GO
Television Program

PHRASES	CLUES
A SELF MADE MAN	It describes one who relieves the Creator of a heavy responsibility
WOULD YOU LIKE TO SEE MY ETCHINGS	It is something every young girl should "no"
PURE AS THE DRIVEN SNOW	This isn't smutty, so perhaps you'll get the drift of it
AN OLD FLAME	The light that failed
FOR EXTERNAL USE ONLY	A drunkard's view of water
ARTIST'S MODEL	The two words describe one who barely earns an honest living
VISIT YOUR DENTIST TWICE A YEAR	This is a good way to get a pan full of gold
THE GREAT STONE FACE	A truly hard-headed figure
SHOULDER STRAPS	This prevents an attraction from becoming a sensation
A TIGHTROPE WALKER	He'd better not be!
NATURALLY CURLY HAIR	Usually on the lamb
THE OLD LADIES' HOME	Why the husband can't join the boys for a game of poker
ROLLING PIN	This is best when in flour; it should never be brought to a head
WEEK END PASS	This is the soldier's hope, the quarterback's fear, and the coed's burden
IN ONE EAR AND OUT THE OTHER	When this happens it's usually because there's nothing in between to stop it
MILKING STOOL	Ideal for little squirts
A BRIDE'S TROUSSEAU	A young girl's fancies
CHILD BRIDE	Too little too soon
TOMORROW I'M GOING TO DIET	This is more probable if it refers to hair instead of food
THIS HURTS ME MORE THAN IT DOES YOU	One of the most unconvincing statements ever made
SOUTHERN EXPOSURE	This could refer to a bright outlook, a scandal in Dixie, or a belle in a bathing suit

Phrases and Clues from DOWN YOU GO
Television Program

PHRASES	CLUES
POLITICAL PLUM	More often the fruit of grafting than of planting
IF I HAD THE WINGS OF AN ANGEL	Complaint of a singer who is behind several bars
COUGH DROP	Decline of a flu epidemic
ANTIQUÉ DEALER	One who buys in haste and repaints at leisure
LOADED DICE	The cube root of trouble
PECK'S BAD BOY	Four of these would make a bushel of trouble
FINE FEATHERED FRIENDS	It refers to high flyers who are easily ruffled, have large bills, and sometimes lay an egg
ONE SWALLOW DOESN'T MAKE A SUMMER	Maybe not, but it breaks a New Year's resolution
SOMETHING TO BOOT	Irate father's idea of his adolescent daughter's boy friends
TOO MANY FINGERS IN THE PIE	As the cannibal complained
I NEVER WAS SO INSULTED IN ALL MY LIFE	Taken aback by affront
GIFT OF GAB	Something everyone wishes he had, yet that which no one who has will ever admit to having
OPEN TO CONVICTION	Any criminal is
POOR AS JOB'S TURKEY	The lowliest kind of poverty
THE FATHERLY TYPE	A gray deceiver
CANDY IS DANDY BUT LIQUOR IS QUICKER	As quick as a shot
SHARPEN YOUR WITS	First step towards cutting your friends
TELEPHONE OPERATOR	A ring leader in the numbers racket
MARRIAGE VOWS	Some swear with, some by, and some at them
TOBACCO AUCTIONEER	One who is always willing to turn over a new leaf
THE RUN AROUND	The most discouraging journey in the world

Phrases and Clues from DOWN YOU GO
Television Program

PHRASES	CLUES
HOPE DIAMOND	An engagement ring
THE FIRST GRAY HAIR	Life's greatest betrayal
STANDING ROOM ONLY	No place for deceit
CONQUERING HERO	What every young girl dreams of doing
THE UPPER CRUST	Lots of dough but often half baked
A BRILLIANT MARRIAGE	What every husband thinks his wife made
LAND OF THE FREE HOME OF THE BRAVE	The first part of this famous phrase seems to reflect on our divorce rate, the second on our marriage rate
LADY IN WAITING	What the homecoming reveler fears
TALKATIVE WIFE	An impediment in a man's speech
BELL BOTTOMED TROUSERS	Like trouble—easier to get into than out of
ADULTS ONLY	This accents the sin in cinema
ANY GIVEN AMOUNT	The quantity of whiskey a Scotchman can drink
NAVAL SURGEON	Sounds like an incredible degree of specialization
KISSING THE HAND	This is something men stoop to when women won't face up to it
JONAH'S WHALE	This had a good man down in the mouth but everything came out all right
MAY I LEAVE THE ROOM	Sign of a going concern
I'M DREAMING OF A WHITE CHRISTMAS	Snow hope
PEANUT BUTTER	Nuts!
WORDS FAIL ME	As the student remarked when he flunked his writing course
POLLY PUT THE KETTLE ON	I don't often give the panel a letter in the clue, but I'll tell them that this ends in tea
ONE WAY TICKET	A good buy for those we don't like