Instructions for the Correct and Successful Use of the Wa-Ne Future Reading Board

TO operate a Wa-Ne board to advantage and to get correct results from your readings it is necessary to use the board in the same method as was used by the Indians many, many years ago when they did their reading from characters only.

The board should be placed on a table with the top of the board to the East and the one operating or having the reading should be seated at the West end of the board facing the East. All the arrows should point direct to the East. The one receiving the reading should place his finger over all five arrows, giving them a turn to the right or the way the sun travels and allowing the arrows to stop where they may. Then you read the arrows or the cards as follows: Start at the top arrow or the red arrow reading down, first reading red, then yellow, then blue, then orange and finally green. Before operating machine or arrows you will make a wish for something you desire and you hold that wish all through your reading. For a full reading it requires four spinnings of the arrows, one from the sun, one from the moon, one from the stars and one from the earth or to the four directions. It is necessary that you should hold the same wish through the four separate spinnings of the arrows. You will note on the back page of Card Indications that there are group readings where cards are grouped together which sometimes have a different meaning than the individual cards and should be taken into consideration when reading your future by the ordinary individual arrow and card reading.

We would like to call your attention to the fact that every character and design on this board has a meaning or a symbol of Indian characters and are all luck or good fortune meanings properly assembled. Would also like to state the meanings of the arrows and their color. The red arrow represents fire, the yellow arrow the sunlight, the blue arrow the water, the orange arrow the moonlight and the green arrow the earth, and are used as an appeal to the great elements to bring about abundance of success, fortune and happiness.
