DIRECTIONS

1. This quiz consists of fifty cards describing characters in the Bible. There are twenty-five on the Old Testament and twenty-five on the New Testament.
2. Two readers, one taking the Old Testament cards and the other the New Testament cards, read alternately until someone in the group guesses from the hints given the identity of the character. The two reader idea does away with the monotony of one voice being heard all the time.
(Note: It is best to pause slightly after the reading of each hint.)
3. The one first identifying the character is given the card to keep, and the person receiving the most cards is the winner.

WHO AM I?

1. I was a woman who sold in the mart of Thyatira.
2. I was a Jewish proselyte and met Paul on his first sabbath in Philippi.
3. Under Paul's guidance, the Lord opened my heart, and I and all my household were baptized.
4. By the way, in the mart I was a seller of purple.

WHO AM I?

1. Once in front of the temple gates I healed a lame man.
2. At another time an angel freed me from prison, after having been placed there by king Herod.
3. A very grievous thought in my memory is that I once denied knowing the Lord Jesus three times before the cock crew.
4. Most assuredly I knew Him, for I was the first man to confess Him as the Christ.
